

Nixon 2-1; State Bonds Trailing

School, Vets Bonds Ahead; DST Carries

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Republicans were called on today to rally behind Richard M. Nixon, winner of the GOP gubernatorial nomination, in his drive to defeat Gov. Edmund G. Brown next November.

The man who narrowly lost the presidency in 1960 turned back the challenge of Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell, a conservative, by about a 2-1 margin in Tuesday's primary election. But Shell refused to endorse Nixon and said he would not accept a post in any Nixon cabinet.

In returns from 20,390 of the state's 31,212 precincts, Nixon had 679,256, Shell 360,952. Brown tallied 935,023, compared to the combined total of 154,722 for his three little-known opponents.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller called on Shell to rally his supporters behind Nixon and insure "a smashing defeat of the Democratic incumbent."

In another spirited primary contest, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R., won easy nomination and will face state Sen. Richard Richards, D-Los Angeles, in November.

Kuchel was leading his two conservative opponents by a better than 6-1 margin.

Congressmen Renominated

All 30 of California's incumbent congressmen—including two members of the John Birch Society—won renomination. The Birch members are Rep. John Rousset, R., and Edgar W. Hiestand, R., of Los Angeles County.

Nominees for eight new congressional districts also were selected. These resulted from California's booming population growth in the 1950-60 decade.

Nixon expressed confidence that California Republicans will rally behind him in the fight ahead.

Faces Tough Fight

The 49-year-old former vice president faces a formidable task in the fall. But the rewards are great—control of a state which in 1963 will be the nation's most heavily populated, plus leadership of a potent political force in 1964 when the presidency once again will be at stake.

California's registration favors Democrats by almost 3-2. The Shell-Nixon results showed a definite cleavage in GOP ranks between conservatives and moderates—a split Nixon hopes to heal in the months ahead.

Shell, conceding the nomination to Nixon early today, had this to say when asked if he will support Nixon next fall:

"Actually, that decision rests more with him than with me. I stand firm for certain principles of government. I will support any candidate who through action as well as words will espouse these principles of conservatism and will endorse these commitments."

Shell added that if Nixon and Brown debate during the coming campaign "it will be a real pillow fight."

Nixon Jubilant

Nixon was jubilant in an appearance in his Los Angeles headquarters in sharp contrast to 1960 when in similar surroundings he sadly made a virtual concession to President-to-be John F. Kennedy. Flanked by his smiling wife, Pat,

Earthquake Hits S.F. Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A sharp earthquake shook the Bay Area and portions of Northern California at about 10:50 a.m. today. At least two shocks were felt in downtown San Francisco. Almost simultaneously a report of a tremor was made in Ukiah. There was no immediate report of damage.

DAUGHTER MURDERED MONDAY

He Testified in Capital Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A retired business executive whose daughter was murdered Monday denied today that his company was shown any favoritism in national stockpile dealings with the Eisenhower administration.

Arthur H. Bunker, former president of Climax Molybdenum Co., testified without visible emotion before Sen. Stuart Symington's

Nixon said he would meet with Shell and predicted "we will go forward to a great victory in November."

In earlier statements Nixon conceded that he must hold 90 per cent of the Republicans next November and pick up 20 per cent of the Democrats in order to beat Brown, a man who surged into office in 1958 by a margin of more than one million over former U.S. Sen. William F. Knowland.

Expects to Win

Brown predicted it would be a "hard, tough fight" next November but said "with our record behind us and the future before us, we will win."

Another primary test between conservatives and so-called middle-of-the-road Republicans saw U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, minority whip in the Senate, an easy victor over two conservative challengers.

Kuchel's opponent in November will be state Sen. Richard Richards of Los Angeles, a man whom Kuchel defeated six years ago by almost 450,000 votes.

Rep. John H. Rousset, Los Angeles, one of two members of the John Birch Society seeking reelection, scored a primary victory in the 25th District over Republican Thomas F. Noonan, West Covina realtor.

"This completely refutes the theory that Birch members can't win," Rousset said.

Other Offices Decided

Available returns, slow in coming in because of the lengthy ballot, indicated the November lineup behind the Brown-Nixon race and the Kuchel-Richards contest for Senate would be:

Lieutenant Governor—Incumbent Glenn M. Anderson, Democrat, against Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco.

Attorney general—Incumbent Stanley Mosk, Democrat, against Superior Judge Tom Coakley of Mariposa County.

Secretary of state—Incumbent Frank M. Jordan, Republican, against Don Rose, Democrat.

Controller—Incumbent Alan Cranston, Democrat, vs. Bruce V. Reagan, Republican. Neither had primary election opposition.

Treasurer—Incumbent Bert A. Betts, Democrat, against Assemblyman John A. Buser of San Francisco.

Reports on the fate of five bond issues totaling $970 million, returns which did not include Los Angeles County, showed two of them winning endorsement, two failing and one neck-and-neck.

Proposition 1, $200 million for the Cal-Vet farm-home loan program, both appeared to be winning favor. Proposition 3, $270 million for college and university construction, and Proposition 4, a $100 million loan to build housing for the aged, both trailed in the early going. Proposition 5, a $150 million issue for acquisition of beach and park sites, was touch and go.

Daylight Time Extended—Voters made one thing clear—they favored a proposal to extend daylight saving time through the month of October. The new law will take effect this fall and will put California in conformity with East in ending daylight time on the last Sunday in October.

One of the most heated races was a nine-man contest to see who becomes state superintendent of public instruction. Returns which by no means were conclusive showed four front-runners—Dr. Wallace W. Hall of Sacramento; Cecil D. Hardesty of San Diego; Max Rafferty of La Canada, and Ralph Richardson of Los Angeles. It was obvious that no candidate would receive a majority of the votes cast for the nonpartisan race and that a November runoff would be necessary between the two top vote-getters.

School Bonds Defeated; Martin Wins in Primary

(lower left) in the 38th Congressional District; William W. Cook and Leonard M. Campbell, who will fight it out in a runoff election to represent the Fourth Supervisorial District.

Local school bonds were soundly defeated in yesterday's elections. Needing a two-thirds approval, the nearly $2 million proposal apparently failed to receive a bare majority. The action reflected not only the statewide attitude on bond proposals but the defeat in October 1961 of a proposal for a school district tax override increase.

In nearly complete returns from the 66 precincts within the Palm Springs Unified School District, the $1,965 million junior high school bond issue polled 3,279 votes out of 6,557 total votes cast. The figure was a minute fraction under 50 per cent of the vote.

Awaits Canvass

Tallied votes were cast against the issue by 2,736 voters. Some of the difference tallied on the bond issue and the total 6,557 votes will be in the three precincts which failed to tally the bond vote on the informal count sheets. The figures will have to come from a canvass of the ballots. The three precinct tallies could not make any significant change in the vote percentage total.

A 26 acre Section 11 site for the proposed new junior high school is now under condemnation proceedings in Riverside Superior Court, Department B, India. The suit, against Palm Springs Realtor Culver Nichols, seeks land at Vista Chino and Avenida Caballero. Money for the site acquisition is in current district funds.

A Pledge

Berton L. Lamb, Cathedral City contractor and president of the five-member board of the Palm Springs school district, today pledged for the board that "we are dedicated to giving the best possible education program with the facilities and funds available."

Lamb emphasized that his reaction is one of "disappointment," stressing that "we really need this school. We have a lot of work cut out for us to work without the new school."

Complication

"The problem is complicated by the defeat of the tax override, and the defeat of this bond issue," Lamb said. He predicted that the increasing pupil load in the Nellie N. Coffmann Junior High School plant and the tightness of budgeting under the maximum $1.65 per $100 assessed valuation for the operating budget could lead to curtailment of district services.

A reverse speculation would indicate that had the bond issue passed, a tax override to meet expanded operational needs might have been needed in 1963. The new Section 11 school was planned for occupancy in the fall of 1963.

WEATHER

Desert Area Forecast:

Mostly sunny today and Thursday. Slightly warmer afternoons. High today 94 to 96. Tuesday's high in Palm Springs was 90, with a low of 58.

Palm Desert farmer William "Bill" Cook won a nice plurality of votes in yesterday's voting for Fourth District county supervisor, but the farmer has a Wolf at the door.

The hungry specter Cook faces is Leonard H. "Lenny" Wolf Jr., who has apparently pulled himself into contention in a run-off election next November for the hotly contested seat being vacated by Supervisor George Berkey.

These were the top men in a seven-way race for the supervisorial job, one of several non-partisan contests that drew a lot of attention and candidates.

This race was second only to the county-wide chase that put Sheriff Joe Rice into a successful hot run for reelection and saw Indio Municipal Judge Wallace Rouse triumph over two aspirants for the bench.

At a still more local level marshal Kenneth P. Anderson defeated two former co-workers in a steaming race.

Ballot totals reported as complete, but unverified, for the supervisorial office are as follows:

Louis H. Carter	688
William W. Cook	4,864
O.R. Crabtree	2,084
William T. Freeman	1,660
Harold F. Haskell	1,232
Leslie S. Morgan	541
Leonard H. Wolf Jr.	2,205

For the office of sheriff, incomplete county returns (350 out of 728 precincts) indicate a rousing victory for Rice. These are:

Joe W. Rice	26,212
Robert L. Garcia	1,630
Cecil E. Johnson	2,754
Joe J. Klure	2,094
John J. Kovel	5,884

Municipal Judge Eugene Theriault was unopposed. The complete unofficial results for the Indio municipal bench are:

Wallace P. Rouse	5,092
George W. Hooten	2,389
C. Frederick Woolpert	2,557

Reports from all Palm Springs area precincts and most of those from the Indio area show the totals in the marshal office race as:

Kenneth P. Anderson	5,159
Fred Edgar Duffy	892
Howard F. Poe	3,611

OAS Truce Extension Comes with Warning

ALGIERS (UPI)—The outlawed Secret Army Organization extended its one-sided truce with the Moslems today under a warning from a top OAS leader in prison that the cause for a French Algeria is lost.

A pirate OAS broadcast imposed on Radio Algiers Tuesday night said the suspension of terrorism, in effect in Algiers for the last five days, would last at least through midnight tonight.

From his cell in Fresnes prison in Paris, the No. 2 OAS leader, Edmond Jouhaud, issued an appeal for an end to the battle

Political novice Pat Minor Martin, 37-year-old Riverside attorney, was named by Riverside and Imperial county Republican voters Tuesday as the challenger to Democrat Rep. D. S. Saund for the 38th Congressional District seat.

Martin, drafted by Riverside Republicans to enter the GOP primary duel, finished a strong first in the three-way race. The count for Martin at 11 a.m. today showed a total of 11,726 votes throughout the district to 7,359 for Republican runner-up Leonard M. Campbell.

Campbell, a 49-year-old Beaumont insurance agent and minister, was trailed by Jack B. Tenney, 63-year-old Banning lawyer and former Los Angeles county legislator who had polled 4,093 votes by the 11 a.m. count. Palm Springs district Republicans gave Martin 1,267 votes to 1,235 for Tenney and 979 for Campbell.

County

The main Republican strength was in Riverside County, where Martin's vote was 9,102 to 5,356 for Campbell and 3,427 for Tenney.

Rep. D. S. Saund, 63, Democrat incumbent for the 38th Congressional district, won a handy re-nomination from his party members despite a reported stroke which has hospitalized him since May 1.

The Democrat voters in the two big desert counties gave Saund a resounding 20,124 vote victory over contender Ray S. Hiller, 69-year-old Palm Springs resident. Hiller polled 4,828 votes in both counties at the 11 a.m. count.

The Question

Rep. Saund gains 2,125 votes from Palm Springs district Democrat voters to 369 for Hiller. The Riverside county late morning tally was 15,059 votes for Saund, 2,753 for Hiller.

The question facing 38th district voters this fall will be whether Martin's position among Republicans can be consolidated enough to overcome the past indefatigable campaigning of Congressman Saund.

The Republican candidates polled 33,178 votes between them, to 24,952 by Saund and Hiller.

to keep Algeria French. He appealed to his OAS commander, former Gen. Raoul Salan, to join him in the plea.

Jouhaud is trying to get President Charles de Gaulle to commute his death sentence. Salan is in another cell in Fresnes. He was sentenced to life.

"When a leader considers that the battle is leading to a dead end, and honor is saved, it is for him a painful, tragic moment: He has to stop the combat," Jouhaud wrote.

"It is important that the action of the OAS should cease at the earliest moment."

Spellers in Warmup for National Bee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Such frequently misspelled words as ki-mono and misspell served only as warmups today for 70 youngsters in the 35th annual National Spelling Bee.
The bee, sponsored by Scripps-Howard Newspapers in 18 cities and 51 other daily and Sunday newspapers, opened with the youngsters facing such sticklers as distichous and smaragdine.
The latter two are the words which tripped up the competition of John Capehart, Tulsa, Okla., and made him champion of last year's event.
If there is a favorite in the competition, it would have to be 12-year-old Delight Ouseley, representing the Knoxville (Tenn.) News-Sentinel. She finished fourth in last year's competition.
Others back for another try are Joyce Conrad, 14, sponsored by the Dallas Morning News; Robert Planisek, 13, Cleveland Press, and Bernice Woll, 12, New York World-Telegram and Sun. They finished 23rd, 39th and 68th, respectively, last year.
The youngsters gathered here, representing 69 cities, are finalists picked from more than five million who competed in local contests all over the United States.
To be eligible, a youngster has to be 15 or under and not beyond the eighth grade in school.
The finalists, 49 girls and 21 boys are competing for cash prizes totaling $5,700.
The first prize is $1,000 in cash, plus $100 in spending money to be used by the winner and his escort during a weekend sight-seeing trip in New York.

JFK Tells Future Army Generals at West Point of Responsibility to Deter Wars

WEST POINT, N.Y. (UPI) — President Kennedy told America's future Army generals today that their responsibility would be to deter wars as well as to fight and win them.
The chief executive made a flying visit from Washington to the U.S. Military Academy here to address the 1962 commencement.
In his prepared remarks, Kennedy emphasized that old concepts of war had changed, thus placing the professional soldier in a position of having to cope with new nonmilitary problems of diplomacy, international politics, and economics, as well as the prospects of combat.
"Basic problems facing the world today are not susceptible of a military solution," the President told the 621 graduates gathered in the mammoth West Point Field House.
"While we will long require the services and admire the dedication of our fighting men," he said, "neither our strategy nor our psychology as a nation—and certainly not our economy—must become permanently dependent upon the maintenance of a large military establishment."
The President said the U. S. armed forces therefore must fill broader roles "as a complement to our diplomacy...a deterrent to our adversaries...symbol to our

Shell Help Now Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican National Chairman William E. Miller sought today to get unsuccessful GOP gubernatorial candidate Joseph C. Shell to rally his forces behind Richard M. Nixon in the November general election.
In a statement congratulating Nixon on his victory over Shell for the Republican nomination, Miller praised Shell for "his hard and cleanly fought campaign."
"A dedicated Republican," Miller said, "We are confident Joe will be instrumental in rallying his supporters behind the Republican nominees and insuring a smashing defeat of the Democratic incumbent."
"A united Republican party will mean victory and the return of California once again to the Republican citadel of the Far West." Some Republican leaders were reported concerned that many of Shell's conservative supporters might stay home and fail to vote for Nixon in the general election in November.

Estes Hearings Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark announced today that his Senate investigating subcommittee will open public hearings June 27 on the tangled Billie Sol Estes case.
McClellan said in a statement that the hearings "will continue possibly for several weeks...during which time it is estimated that 100 witnesses may be called to testify."
The senator said he ordered the public phase of the inquiry as a result of material turned up in "preliminary" investigations by his staff.
Among other things, the hearings will cover Estes' dealings with the Agriculture Department and actions "taken by the department in connection therewith."
The subcommittee's staff investigation of the Texas farm and fertilizer tycoon will continue until the June 27 hearings begin. The group now has more than 40 investigators looking into the Estes affair.
Meanwhile, a House government operations subcommittee announced it will call Dr. James T. Ralph, deposed assistant secretary of agriculture, to explain his connections with Estes.

The House subcommittee said Ralph will be the first witness when it resumes public hearings Thursday. He will be queried about his knowledge of Estes' grain storage operations.
Ralph told UPI in an interview that he will appear voluntarily and "will answer any questions put to me." He said, however, that he had little information that could help the committee in its inquiry.
Committee staff members questioned Ralph Tuesday to determine what he knew about Estes' operations.
They would not reveal details of the session, but concluded Ralph could shed some light on how Estes was able to build a reported $100 million empire based mostly on government grain storage revenues.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman fired Ralph for charging personal telephone calls to Estes' credit card. Ralph also told a Texas Court of Inquiry he tried on expensive clothing at a Dallas department store in the company of Estes. He denied ever receiving the clothing.
Ralph said he would welcome questions about these matters because he had nothing to hide.

Recreation Chairman On Hawaiian Holiday

By ELLEN SAUNDERS
DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Herb A. Eccles, chairman of the park and recreation district here, planned on Friday for a month-long vacation in Hawaii. On the return trip stopovers will be made in Victoria, B.C., and at the World's Fair in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Fobert have sold their home in Cactus Gardens to Mr. and Mrs. Morris Winnett and have purchased the Blue Fountain Lodge previously owned by the Winnetts. The Foberts plan to live in a home they recently built in the Highlands area.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mattheisen leave this week for a summer long tour of the United States and Canada. After visiting with friends and family in Chicago and Clinton La., the couple will head north to Lake Louise and Vancouver where Mattheisen lived for several years. During their absence Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bishop of Los Angeles will occupy their home here.

Members of American Legion Post 793 and their auxiliary who attended the Legion's pre-convention caucus held on Sunday in Riverside, were Cmdr. and Mrs. George Bement, Mr. and Mrs. Veryl Lambertson, and Joseph Lowenthal, and Jack Jarmin.

Mrs. Harry Chester entertained at brunch and canasta at her home on Monday. Honors at canasta were won by Mrs. Donald Hulbert and Mrs. Harlan Edson. Table prizes were awarded to Mesdames Earl Farmer, Maben White and Ruth Hader.

In addition to the winners the guest list included Mesdames Clifford Babin, Ted Spellaza, Harry Jacobson, Bert Hine and Garnet Taylor of Desert Hot Springs and Mrs. Charles Sakin of Palm Springs.

A survey of the climate of Desert Hot Springs has just been completed by Professor Gilbert White of the University of Chicago. While working on his project, White has made the Bel-Air Motel his headquarters.

The latest word from Joan Forsyth, who left here on April 1 for a six-month tour of the British Isles and the continent, is that she is enjoying Ireland. Prior to sailing, Joan got her first quick look at New York City, lunched at an Automat and rode the subway.

Mrs. Howard Dixby Greene and Mrs. Robert Garvin co-hosted a bridge and brunch for several friends on Monday at the latter's home. Guests were Mesdames Fern Norton, Gilbert Holway, Grace P. Harmon, Charles Haymes, Nick Burmesch, Adele Green, Rudy Bister, John Young, Cora Parsons, Charles Markell, Elizabeth Belk and Bernice Krizmyer, Joseph Lukomski and Walter Klocke of Desert Hot Springs and Mrs. John Shamel of Palm Springs. Honors at bridge were awarded to Mrs. Gilbert Holloway and Mrs. Rudy Bister.

Mrs. Mae Playman Schlan is spending several weeks at the home of her daughter in Northridge caring for her grandson who met with an accident several weeks ago.

The American Legion Auxiliary, Post 793, held its annual no-host luncheon for members of their Sewing Bee at the Palm Springs Riviera on Thursday.

Mrs. Anna B. Miller, committee chairman, arranged the table decorations of spring flowers and poppies and furnished sweets.

Mrs. Thomas Sullivan and Mrs. Veryl Lambertson who are leaving our town shortly to make their home in Yucaipa, were presented with corsages of poppies. Other members present were Mesdames George Bement, Joseph Lowenthal, Sadie Dehner, Della Gatenby, Dewey Carson, Walter Pittinger, Elsie Martin, Anthony Winbald, Harry Jacobson, Eva Jensen and Alfred Lundby.

John Kean, son of Mr. and Mrs. John (Red) Kean, graduates from San Diego State College this week. He recently enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps and will report to officer's training school at Quantico, Va., in September. Meanwhile he will attend summer school.

On Thursday, Mrs. Addington, founder and past president of the Desert Hot Springs Sandwitches, was guest of honor at a luncheon meeting of that organization, hosted by the Highlander Restaurant by Mrs. Grace Parsons Harmon.

When the Art Tappes of Yukon, Okla., headed home this week after vacationing here with their son, Bob Ritchie, and his family, they took with them their two grandchildren, Tamara and Wade Ritchie. Mrs. Ritchie plans to join the children in July.

Resolution Would Cut Pressure Group Impact

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If conservative-minded citizens were as alert as they should be, you would have been reading before this about Senate Joint Resolution 12 and what it could accomplish toward cutting down to size the pressure-group left wing of American politics. The joint resolution is now pending in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

S. J. Res. 12 is a proposal to amend the U. S. Constitution. More specifically it is a proposal for changing the method of choosing the members of the electoral college whom the voters elect by ballot. The members of the electoral college thereupon cast their own ballots and it is their ballots that determine who shall be elected president and vice president of the United States.

It is in the system of electing the electors that this machinery for choosing a president and vice president collides head-on with the principles of equity and fair play. This is the general ticket system in which states of electors—each state representing a political party and its presidential and vice presidential nominees—runs at large in each state.

The proposed amendment—S. J. Res. 12—would change this. Each state elects as many electors as it numbers in its congressional representation, the number of senators and representatives combined. S. J. Res. 12 would provide that each state choose its electors as it chooses its congressional delegation. Two would be chosen at-large, by state-wide vote, as U. S. senators are chosen. The others would be chosen, each individually in a congressional district, as U. S. representatives are chosen.

That system would break the backs of the pressure groups which compose the dynamic left wing of American politics and which uniformly are associated with the Democratic party in federal elections. The farm bloc pressure group would be least diminished by this method of choosing the electoral college.

Farm bloc pressure, perhaps, might have even greater impact on presidential elections under the S. J. Res. 12 system than now. It would appear, therefore, that the farm bloc is a source of political strength to which conservatives should look for muscle in behalf of the amendment proposal.

The conservatives will need all the muscle they can attract. This proposed amendment would, first, enormously decrease the big-city, big-state influence in nominating presidential candidates and, second, equally decrease that influence in electing a president.

The pressure groups whose backs would be fractured if this amendment prevailed are the big-city, big-state pressure groups: labor and the racial blocs. Most specifically, AFL-CIO and NAACP each would lose much influence in presidential elections.

These two political powerhouses are notably affiliated with the Democratic party in the big industrial states. Therefore S. J. Res. 12 would be a severe blow to the Democratic party in the proportion that it diminished the political influence of pressure groups which in the past generation have enabled the Democrats to elect their presidential tickets.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day for you to accomplish a great deal if your aims and ideas have considerable imagination and if you make a point to contact the most influential persons with whom you have any contact to let them know exactly what you have in your mind. Don't hide your light under anything. State your abilities now.

ARIES (Birthdays from Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — If you contact the right people with your creative material, you can become quite successful now. Be pleasant, entertain them. Get out for pleasure tonight.

TAURUS (Birthdays from Apr. 20 to May 20) — Try to make things easier for those who abide under your own roof today. Buy little presents that please, be thoughtful with candy, flowers, etc.

GEMINI (Birthdays from May 21 to June 21) — Good day to garner data you need and also for keeping appointments that are important. Join with congenials, too, for any activities that are mutually profitable.

MOON CHILDREN (Birthdays from June 22 to July 21) — Think as big as you can now and be sure to consult with those who can help you to realize your fondest dreams. Then set up a good budget, first of all.

LEO (Birthdays from July 22 to Aug. 21) — Fine day to realize most personal desires, but be sure you also consider the feelings and rights of others. Evening is ideal for social pleasure.

VIRGO (Birthdays from Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Now you have the chance to see expert who can assist you to realize personal desires.

THOUSAND PALMS

Capacity Crowd for Annual Chamber Event

By BEATRICE EAVES

THOUSAND PALMS — A Capacity crowd attended the annual dinner and installation of the Thousand Palms Chamber of Commerce officers at the new community building.

Tables were set up and beautifully decorated, walls were decorated by the hanging of the art exhibits which had been a part of Thousand Palms booths winning first prize for several years at the Riverside County Fair. The menu included both ham and turkey with dozens of delectable dishes prepared by the women of the chamber, who very capably served. Mrs. Dewey Wallace was chairman of the dinner committee.

The master of ceremonies was Mr. Dewey Wallace. The Rev. Mr. Dan Claassen conducted the installation service. Officers installed were president Mrs. Mina Welcome, (for her sixth consecutive term) vice-president

Clyde Lau (for his third term), secretary Mrs. Phoebe Cornelius, treasurer Mrs. Edna Sautter. The newly elected members of the board of directors are Mrs. J. Smart and Leo Miller.

Ralph Peterson of Los Flores Way, professor of music in the Los Angeles schools, led in group singing. He and his wife taught some piano in the old well known "rounds" with emphasis on Thousand Palms.

The speaker of the evening was Frank J. Gelineas of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, who spoke on "The Constant Challenge."

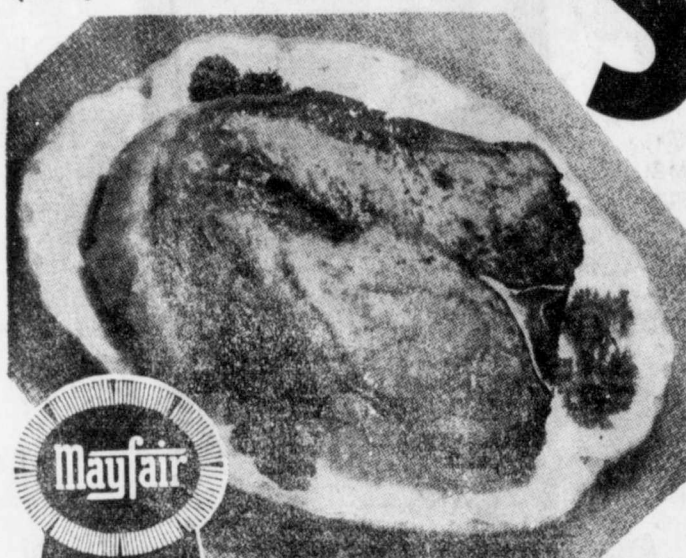

Awards were presented to Mrs. Edith Burgess of East Los Angeles and Mrs. Dan Claassen of Thousand Palms. Mr. and Mrs. Burgess had inadvertently stopped in at the Chamber of Commerce office that morning, and had been invited to stay for the evening.

They are property owners on Calle Jessica and had only come out on business.

Graham Urges Schools Retain Building Chief

John Wesley Graham, director of building inspection for the Palm Springs Unified School District since Jan. 1961, has started his terminal vacation from the post with a plea for the school board to continue the position.

"The question of what individual fills the job is a matter for District and board decision," Graham said.

"The picture I have of the director of building inspection and the director of maintenance working closely could not help but effect savings to the district," Graham said.

Termination Told

"The Superintendent of Schools has indicated that the position of director of building inspection is being discontinued, effective June 30, 1962," Graham was informed in a May 7 letter from Dr. Warren Linville, district personnel director. The letter advised Graham that "you will not be offered a contract for the year 1962-63."

The action could make Graham the only man to hold the job since it was authorized by the board of education late in 1960.

Graham's thinking about the job and its advantages to the Palm Springs Unified School District, is shown in the following direct question and answer interview:

Position Explained

Q: What were the responsibilities of the job when you were hired in January, 1961.

A: The duties were those outlined in the information sent out by Mr. Miles when the district was recruiting for a director of building inspection. The responsibilities cited included enforcing of the laws, codes and ordinances dealing with the construction of new school buildings, classrooms, auditoriums and other large structures, and the alteration and safety of existing buildings.

"A specific illustration of the duties outlined included 'ascertains, discrepancies, omissions and improper designs and recommends revisions to conform with District needs. I believe my recommendations, after careful and detailed analysis, were in line with the scope of my job requirements. The salary scale for the job - in the $10,000 annual range - indicated that the requirements were more than simple inspection to determine conformity with set specifications," Graham said.

Expenditures Heavy

Q: This work involved new construction and remodeling?

A: Yes, both.

Q: Approximately how much district money has been involved in these construction projects in the period January, 1961, through the present time?

A: Approximately $4,095,000. A couple of these projects were in the final stages when I began work, and the new Section two school construction has recently begun.

Q: In your experience in the district, what are the advantages of having a staff member with your responsibilities?

A: The director of building inspection is able to point out savings that can be realized by utilizing more economical designs, and by standardizing both equipment and materials. The inspector's reviews may also ensure that future expansion will be taken care of - that any site subject to expansion of facilities is properly utilized. Both site plan utilization and expansion of existing structures may be involved. Site utilities placement and building location are involved.

Experience Outlined

Q: How long have you worked in the construction field?

A: Since 1938. I started at Hickam Field, Honolulu.

Q: When did you first enter the school construction field?

A: In 1948, in Medford, Ore.

Q: How long have you been in California school construction?

A: Six years.

Q: What was the chain of your supervision in the district?

A: In planning, I worked with Dr. Twist. After work started on the project, I worked with Jack Miles, the assistant superintendent.

Q: What reception was given your specific recommendations concerning construction jobs?

A: My suggestions to the chief administrator seemed to have been received with a tongue-in-cheek attitude, as opposed to one of encouragement. It appeared that suggestions were pigeon-holed. Mr. Miles displayed terrific interest. . . he seemed interested in any facet I explored . . .

Q: Would you recommend continuance of a director of building inspection for the district?

A:—I would strongly represent that this is a must - even accepting the fact that the job would be occupied by some other person - I believe the duties in the description stated in the California personnel recommendation and sent out by the district in 1960 - would aid the district in efficiency and cost consciousness.

Graham concluded that the co-operation between the director of building inspection and the director of maintenance he discussed earlier in the interview would give ideas for new planning.

"Given the opportunity to operate, I believe the director of building inspection would be of unquestionable benefit to the district," Graham said.

Mexico Line Terminates Our World

TIJUANA, Mexico (UPI) — The southern terminus of U.S. 101 in California opens into a different world—that of Tijuana, Mexico.

Tijuana is a city of bright lights, gaudy colors, exotic food and drink, rich men, destitute men and sin in many guises. It is a place to escape reality.

The border city is located on the northern extremity of the Mexican peninsula state of Baja California (Lower California). Its economy is almost totally dependent on the United States.

A potpourri of people make up Tijuana's 150,000 population. They are friendly, but not the gay people of mainland Mexico. Tijuana is a somber and serious intent upon existing.

A tourist must dodge careening taxicabs, sidestep shoe shine boys and cope with dirty-faced children selling American chewing gum. Couples are stopped on every block with offers to arrange a marriage—or divorce, whichever is most appropriate. Quien Cuidado! Children offer to wash cars with a dirty cloth for a quarter or watch it all day for another.

Enchiladas and tacos are sold on most corners by foot cart vendors. And, in lush mirrored dining rooms, visitors can partake of quail under glass.

Tourists may enjoy the thrill of a taxi ride—down the wrong side of the road—to the race track. On Sunday, thousands throng to the bullfights.

The main attraction may not be in the ring but in the stands where shapely women wear pants a little too tight and each hat is a little bigger and more brightly festooned than the last.

After shouts of "bravo el toro . . . ole!" fade and the sun goes down tourists may attend the dog races or the fastest game in the world—Jai Alai—where spectators bet on the man rather than the horse.

Night clubs line the main street, each proclaiming in gaudy lights their girls are the most beautiful and their shows the most daring. Each has boisterous crowds, dim lights, drinks served around the clock and virtually unclad dancers.

Tijuana is a land of haves and have-nots; a place where anything can happen and does; a city where sin is sold unashamedly.

Food Handler's Health Tests Slated Here

A skin testing program to qualify food handlers will be held at the Palm Springs Health Center next Tuesday, according to Dr. Everett M. Stone, county director of public health.

Dr. Stone said the tests will be conducted during a one-hour period starting at 9 a.m. in the center, which is located at 3120 Civic Drive, behind the Palm Springs Police Station.

Can We Afford Less Than the Best?

"The Age of the Goof-Off," an article written by Charles H. Brower, president of a large Eastern supply firm and printed in the "Transportation Services Weekly Review" was sent along to The Desert Sun by Joe Hanna of Palm Springs with the comment that it was thought-provoking.

It is and it follows:

Our national pattern is being willing to settle for something less than the best. For this, in America, is the great era of the goof-off, the age of the half-done job.

The land from coast to coast has been enjoying a stampede away from responsibility. It is populated with laundry men who won't iron shirts; with waiters who won't serve; with carpenters who will come around someday maybe; with executives whose minds are on the golf course; with teachers who demand a single salary schedule so that achievement cannot be rewarded, nor poor work punished; with students who take cinch courses because the hard ones make them think; with spiritual delinquents of all kinds who have been triumphantly determined to enjoy what was known until the present crisis as "the new leisure."

I think and I hope that our people are becoming sick of this goofing off. The reason I do not know, but I will guess that we are beginning to realize that history is repeating itself.

The Russians are doing a wonderful job as the barbarians in our modern historical drama. But we are far out-doing them in our superlative imitation of Rome. We may lack a few of the refinements of Rome's final decadence, but we do have the two-hour lunch, the three-day weekend, and the all-day coffee break. You can buy for $275 a jeweled pillbox, with a built in musical alarm that reminds you (but not too harshly) that it's time to take your tranquilizer.

Unquestionably, we are now engaging in a battle for survival. We must get our people into the battle. But first we have to get some battle into our people.

What you and I have to do, patiently, and day by day, is to teach those over whom we are given supervision, that work can be fun—that the only real reward that life offers is the thrill of achievement, and that the place where achievement amounts to most is on the job.

We are a nation of hobbyists, but here is a large element of escapism in hobbies. Too many of us get our vocations all tangled up with our avocations. We have got to get to work or a stronger nation may put us to work. And to get to work, we have to rediscover what millions used to know. THERE IS A GREAT THRILL IN WORK WELL DONE.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Never Elected But Powerful

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Three men, never elected to office, have acted as prime movers in large events during the 87th Congress. One of them is about to become this column's choice as Senate Staffer of the Year.

Fred Buzhardt, a West Pointer, Class of 1946, a military prosecutor, and a lawyer from Carolina, has been the analyst, spear-point and speech writer of Senator Thurmond's campaign against the Administration's No Win policy.

A lean and hungry deliver into the motives of politicians, Buzhardt saw in last summer's Fullbright Memorandum a far-reaching plan to (a) muzzle anti-Communist agitators in and out of the military, (b) to reduce the American officer corps to meek yeasayers and generalizers about the Cold War, (c) to create a No Win atmosphere in which pacifism, and coexistence with Communism would result in the loss of American allies (Adenauer and De Gaulle), recognition of Communist conquests in some places (East Germany) and acceptance of defeat - alias - neutralist - coalition (Laos) as a prelude to eventual surrender.

No single event in the 87th Congress has surpassed in final importance this challenge of the Kennedy foreign-military policy. A salute to Fred Buzhardt!

A Job Well Done

David Shea Teepie, a former assistant high school principal in the District of Columbia, won a battle field commission in the Pacific phase of World War II as a Counter-Intelligence Corps soldier. His job was to protect the troops from spies and saboteurs. Teepie did so well that he was requisitioned for the Manhattan Project, the atomic bomb program, becoming responsible for security at the Berkeley (Cal.) Laboratory and for operations in New York City. In due time, after much similar experience in atomic counter-intelligence in Germany under the Army Inspector General, the tough and burly Teepie was brought by Senator Hickenlooper in 1947-48 to the staff of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy and later by Chairman Lewis Strauss to the Atomic Energy Commission.

In January, 1962, Hickenlooper became the conservative choice and winner of the contest to replace the late Styles Bridges as Chairman of the Republican Policy Committee—and he brought Teepie back from private business to become staff director of Policy. All during the Eisenhower Administration the conservative Republicans played dead. Till now there has been neither bite nor back-bite in Policy. The abdication of strong minority partisanship has hurt the two-party system, the nation and the Western World.

Teepie, who knows how to spring traps on secret foes, has enlivened the Committee and, while results are easier to sense than to demonstrate, is putting fight into the Republicans. This is vital work. A salute to Teepie!

No Peace Speech

Dave Martin, like Teepie an intellectual and book author, is also like Teepie in that he is drawn by a philosophic affinity to offer his mind and services to an influential U. S. Senator. Born a Canadian, trained in journalism, steeped in travel, personally involved in anti-Communist activities in Hungary and Yugoslavia, Martin read Senator Tom Dodd's brilliant no-peace-with-Communism speech on the Berlin crisis of 1959 in which Dodd rebuffed a Fulbright proposal that we might as well concede Russian conquest of East Berlin.

Martin made the Senator's acquaintance, became his analyst, speech-drafter and companion on trips to Berlin, the Congo and Southeast Asia. Martin found Dodd with an instinct to recognize a rising crisis, found him capable of as much as 40 work-hours in preparing an address on a subject like nuclear policy, found him both an instigator and a willing receiver of ideas.

A tireless truth-seeker, Dave Martin, along with another staffer, Jim Boyd, has enhanced and extended the native ability of Dodd until the Senator has become a walking workshop, probably the most valuable and certainly the most prolific member of the upper body. Twenty-some of Dodd's foreign policy speeches will soon appear in book form, and no wonder—each chapter is the best available information on the subject.

Dodd's domestic interests are equally capacious—export control, electoral college, wire tap, immigration reform, drug control, mass transportation and shore line erosion.

Because he has added a dimension to this sort of Senator, has increased the Dodd stature, extended Dodd's reach into so many foreign and domestic affairs of great moment, I think Dave Martin the most important Man-Behind-A-Senator in 1962 — and deserving national approbation.

It could be well to study some of the experiences of others who have followed similar trails before embarking on an important venture.

This little truism should go for government, as well as an individual. It can be applied to proposals for government domination of medicine.

Socialized national health service in England could help provide us with a precedent. We can go to English authorities to see what the results have been.

The British Broadcasting Corporation in a documentary film has stated that some patients "have been waiting as long as six years for surgery." A well known British journalist reports that "the number of people medically insured for private treatment has risen by more than 1000 per cent . . . because . . . socialist medicine is just not good enough." A distinguished Oxford professor found that the system has "progressively creating dependency and frustration among the doctors."

An Associated Press release told of the complaints of patients of over-crowded waiting rooms, and of physicians complaints of excessive work-loads and under-payment. A British doctor now in this country wrote, "The poor British taxpayer has been milked dry. The health service now costs more than five times the original estimate. The Chicago Tribune's London Bureau Chief said that British "hospitals have 500,000 on their waiting lists."

The question, as it appears for us: Shall we emulate, in any way, such a program, which has not proven out in other places?

(Winston-Salem, N.C., Journal)

When teenagers themselves see a need for stricter regulation of youthful drivers, it is time to sit up and take notice. Such notice has been evoked by 1,174 students at Myers Park High School at Charlotte in a petition to Governor Sanford and the North Carolina Traffic Safety Council.

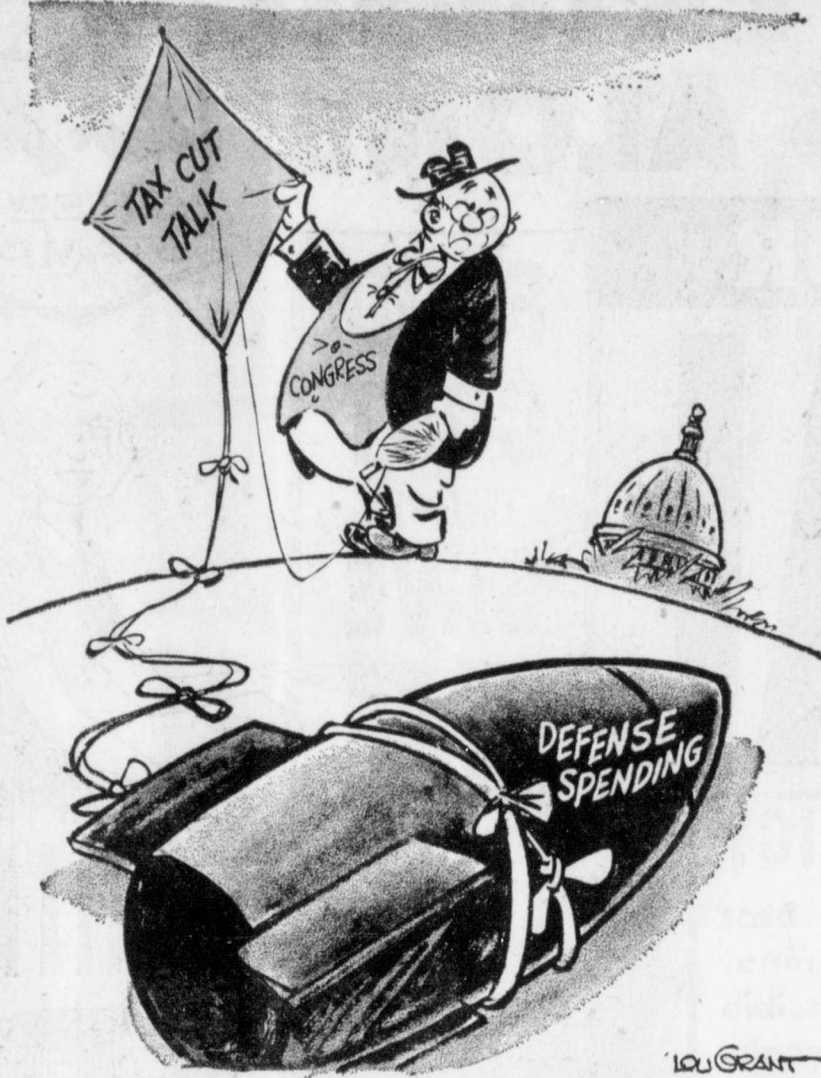

The students, representing nearly 90 per cent of the student body, suggest a form of probation for drivers between 16 and 18 years old. They would be issued regular drivers licenses at age 16, but until they reached age 18, they would automatically lose their licenses upon conviction of two moving traffic violations. After reaching 18, they would be subject to the regular point system for suspending licenses.

The plan acknowledges that the driving privilege has to be earned and reearned. It accords with the principle that the privilege should be retained only by those who demonstrate a continuing capacity to meet the responsibilities that go with it.

It will not of itself prevent all accidents among teenage drivers now or later. But it does persuade a new generation of drivers who are concerned drivers, who have a healthy respect for traffic safety laws, their own lives and the lives of others. And that is bound to make our highways and streets less the place of carnage that they are today.

The students of Myers Park High School have given the members of the 1963 General Assembly something to think about. They have given high school students throughout North Carolina something to think about.

How high can a building go into the air? If it's just thirty feet, Thirty feet from where?

The argumentative guy who often engages me in small talk at the breakfast counter, put out some tough questions the other morning.

USUALLY, his dogmatic spiel requires little attention. He settles affairs of city, county, state, nation and world while I'm getting away with one doughnut and a kuplajupsakawfee.

But this time he wanted to know. "This Alexander man who wants to spend ten million bucks on a hotel smack up against the mountains, a piece of architecture most any other city would be wild to get -- what gives?"

POINTING through the cafe window to the mountain wall to the west, all rosy in the dawn's early light, he said:

"He asks for a change in the height limit but the people at the city hall seem to be dragging their feet. Look at that mountain. It goes almost straight up. Why does he need a change in how many feet to the ridgepole?"

"Where do they measure from?"

CHECKING a scribbled note, he went on. "Officially, our altitude here is 437 feet, maybe that's 457. Who cares? But if they take it from there, some of these people living in Araby or on other hill-sides, should be watching their TV in sub-cellars. They're way over 30 feet up."

"But if they start where the building takes off from the ground—say, how about it?"

"By the time he's up 30 feet on the first two floors, he could start right off on the next two for 30 feet more, the way that mountain slants. Hek, the sky's the limit."

"NOW YOU TAKE that precedent thing. Mayor Frank says we'll have to take care of parking first if other people want to build skyscrapers all over town. I don't mean skyscrapers—that's a nasty word here — I mean high rise buildings."

"The city's got a law, ain't it, that says you gotta have so many parking spaces for so many square feet of floor space? That should take care of the others."

"THEN, HE WANTS to give us land to cut Belardo Road through. That's sure a needed item, the way things are on Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue. The hotel people say let 'em drive 10 miles an hour. Yeah, some dame once said let 'em eat cake. She lost her head, before and after."

"This Belardo Road will take a load off the Drive and it's about time."

"NOW, THEY SAY that it's the old-timers who don't like to see any changes. Huh! Lookit Earle Strebe. He's been around longer'n about anybody else at the city hall. He's for it."

"Says it'll be a shot in the arm for the city. He's got something there, I say."

"Mebbe they'll be going on this deal by the time you get back from leaving your money at Arlington Park in Chicago, huh?"

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN:

Dear Abby . . .

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend named Dora. Her husband is a "wife-chaser." Red doesn't care what he chases as long as she's married. He says it is dangerous for a married man to run around with single girls. One of them might take him seriously. When a married woman takes up with a married man, she knows it's all in fun.

Dora is a very quiet, religious type and has never caught onto Red's chasing. Should we tell her? Or should we let her find out for herself? The wife is always the last to know. She might be able to straighten him out before some woman's husband shoots him. He is now chasing me. —DORA'S FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: I don't believe that when a man "chases" his wife is always the last to know. She may be the last to admit it. Since Red is chasing "you", why don't you straighten him out before your husband sees Red?

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 14 and very big for his age. We aren't the kind of people who talk openly about every subject in the world, if you know what I mean. Lately our son has been asking me a lot of questions about life and so forth. I tell him to ask his father, but his father tells him to ask me. Whose job do you think this is. —MRS. J.

DEAR MRS. J.: It's Father's job. But one of you had better hurry up and tell the boy what he wants to know or it will be like giving a fish a bath!

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle an argument on a point of etiquette? I once read that it was acceptable for a woman to sit and embroider or knit while with friends. Recently I wanted to take my knitting along when we went to call on some friends and my husband told me to leave it home as it might be considered rude. I've seen women knitting and embroidering at all kinds of social gatherings and I never gave it a second thought. I'd like your opinion. —LIKES TO KNIT

DEAR LIKES: There is nothing "rude" about knitting or embroidering while conversing with friends. (If there is any "needing" done, at least it's done in the open.

DEAR ABBY: I sent you three of my problems and you didn't answer any of them. Why do you claim you answer every letter when you don't? —OFF OF YOU

DEAR OFF: It isn't possible to answer every letter "in my column." Next time, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and you'll get a personal reply.

CONFIDENTIAL to "Walter A.": You're not sick, you're just in love.

Still worrying about the same old problem? Write to Abby for a personal reply. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BOB CONSIDINE:

Crash, 17 Years Ago, Made 1962 History

CAPE CANAVERAL — Great Scott! Scott Carpenter, that is. What a gruelling day he gave himself. His family, 186,000,000 Americans, his employers, and the palpitating press, TV and radio gathered here in sweaty anxiety.

"I feel fine," he enthused as that helicopter pulled him out of the sea, 200 miles off limits. He was unique in his feeling, this man who had confronted space and sea and treated both as elements to be tamed like the bucking broncos he knew as a tough kid in Colorado.

Seventeen years ago when he was a maverick hot-rodder of 20, Scott drove his beefed-up bucket of bolts through three concrete road posts and nearly killed himself. It marked the end of his restless hell-raising boyhood, the beginning of his manhood. Today, living on the perimeter of spectacular death in space or dreary anti-climatic drowning at sea, Carpenter moved along in his maturity, too. If the car smack-up made him a man, the events of May 24, 1962, elevated him to the superman level.

The astronaut's licensed biographer tells us that he once conned the U.S. Navy into accepting him as a bona fide graduate of the University of Colorado's School of Engineering — when as a matter of fact he had flunked twice in a course based on heat transfer.

His Greatest Job

Today he may well have achieved his greatest job of risky salesmanship. He coaxed his earthbound bosses and associates in project Mercury into believing that instruments indicating that he was being boiled alive in his own sweat — his heat transfer, if you will — were erroneous. Therefore he must be entitled to perform all three of the scheduled orbits.

Got away with it, too. But not by much. He was found, literally just another drop in an endless ocean, sitting casually in his tiny life raft 200 miles beyond the ships which had been placed 800 miles Southeast of Canaveral to catch him like a long fly ball. He had come back to earth 195 miles Northwest of Puerto Rico.

A navy patrol plane, not associated with Project Mercury in any way, just happened to be moseying around in that general area. It alertly picked up the capsule's automatic radio beeper, homed in on our hero, and led the rest of the air-sea rescue team to the forlorn site.

A chance in 100? Maybe it was a chance in a million. But then Scott Carpenter is not a routine man. If you want to reduce it to mathematics, he is one of only four men of all the billions who have lived on earth who ever voyaged into the limitless realm of space.

Alters the Course

Inadvertently, he probably altered the course of our man-in-space effort. His narrow escapes aloft and on the breast of the briny deep could easily cause a speed-up in Project Mercury. Its officials, quite sensitive to what appears to be a growing public impatience, could well decide that there now have been enough three-orbit flights. No sense risking another astronaut's life duplicating a previous achievement, wot? So the next shot probably will be a seven-orbit attempt, with perhaps a landing off Midway in the Pacific, then an 18-orbit, and quickly as possible a step up to the two-man Gemini program. Beyond that, of course, lies the Saturn-boosted Apollo series, and the man-on-the-moon pledge by the Kennedy administration.

Will Scott Carpenter be around for these wonders? For Gemini perhaps. He'll be hardly John Glenn's present age when Gemini is ready to take that big second step in space. But he'll be 45 or more by the time Apollo flexes its muscles for real. That will give him faculty age and stature. But if he never flies again, his name is written indelibly in American history—this exceptional man who would never have gone up at all today if Deke Slayton, who had the assignment in the first place, had not been jobbed out of his job.

Pay television has won another round in a 10-year legal battle, but it probably is not in the clear for a public test — yet. The U.S. Court of Appeals here has approved the willingness of the Federal Communications Commission to permit one station to try out the pay-as-you-see plan for three years. But the case may go to the Supreme Court.

"Surely," said the appeals court, "the Commission's power to see that this area of the public domain is used in the public interest is not less for 'paid' television than for the existing system of so-called 'free' television."

The lawsuit was brought by Connecticut theater owners — since the "experimental" pay-TV station is to operate in Hartford.

Regardless of all the legal arguments, which were turned down by the court, the purpose of the litigation is to eliminate a potential competitor.

Now there is no more moral reason to outlaw pay television than there would be to outlaw a circus, or bowling, or baseball, because they compete for the public's entertainment dollar with movies, or "free" TV. We don't by law quash a new soap just because it competes with existing soaps.

As with any other promising new enterprise, pay television is entitled to its fair chance. The public will decide whether it is in the "public interest." In the end, it may be a flop. But the promoters who have invested the money, energy and ingenuity have a right to that risk.

Travel Theme Used at Club Installation

Following a "Holiday Around the World" theme, the new captain and her shipmates aboard the S.S. Palm Springs Junior Women's Club were presented with parchment commissions, when Mrs. Dale Covey installed officers during a dinner at Holiday Inn.

Mrs. Covey, retiring Area D vice president of CFWC, installed the following officers: Mrs. Ronald Jahelka, president; Mrs. Gerald Pelton, 1st vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Davis, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Robert Ricciardi, treasurer; Mrs. George Fischer, recording secretary; and Mrs. Anthony Rizzotto, corresponding secretary.

Appointed to serve on the board with the elected officers were: Mrs. Jerry Stickle, auditor; Mrs. William Shupe, dean of chairmen; Mrs. Richard Algier, membership chairman and Mrs. Richard Hill, parliamentarian.

Women Honored

Preceding the installation ceremonies, Mrs. William Shupe, retiring president, presented engraved discs to Mmes. Ronald Jahelka and Richard Algier, Junior Clubwomen of the year, and engraved ashtrays were presented to Mmes. Charles Schwenck and Nolan Richter, coordinators.

Mrs. Jahelka announced that chairmen appointed for the next year are: Mrs. Robert Ricciardi, Amenities and art; Mrs. George Marshall, Americanism; Mrs. Kenneth Davis, conservation; Mrs. Gerald Pelton, crafts; Mrs. Sidney Watson, drama and music; Mrs. John DiBello, historian; Mrs. Jerry Stickle, international affairs; Mrs. William Shupe, press; Mrs. Morris Soto, religion and family living; and Mrs. Richard Algier, safety; Catagories still without chairmen are: a armed forces, BAB, civil defense, education and literature, gerontology and health, mental health and youth.

Poetry Winners

It was reported that Mmes. Richard Rajcher and William Shupe were given awards for serious poetry, during the CFWC state convention. Their work will be published in the CFWC booklet.

Mrs. Richard Hill, dinner chairman, was assisted by Mmes. James Thompson, Sidney Watson, Richard Algier and Anthony Rizzotto.

Special guests for the evening were the husbands of the Juniors, Charles Schwenck and Nolan Richter, both of India the Dale Coveys and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Cox, all of Hemet and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Back (he's executive secretary of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America).

THE NOSE KNOWS

Scents Pay Off

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nose knows—and increasingly its owner buys on the basis of scents appeal.

All of which is to say that an unperfumed product may sit unnoticed on a shelf while its fragrant neighbor moves to the market basket.

"The public's taste in fragrance is improving," said Henry van Ameringen, director of an international firm which creates and manufactures flavors, fragrances and aromatic chemicals.

Everything Smells Nice This improvement, said Van Ameringen, "is most vividly shown in products which we use every day. Ordinary toilet soaps which formerly smelled mediocre, if not actually bad, now have a positive perfume quality. Detergents, floor cleaners and even shoe polishes in order to sell must be agreeably perfumed."

"This situation has arisen through intensive competition," Van Ameringen continued. "Companies have been quick to realize that if their product is agreeably perfumed, the public will prefer it to a similar, unperfumed product."

Van Ameringen's observations on a nation so conscious of scents they reap dollars was made during a seminar sponsored by the Fragrance Foundation, a trade organization.

He talked of current availability of perfume as well of its history and its contents. His firm, founded in 1870, supplies the essence of smells in everything from soft drinks and chewing gum to expensive perfumes.

"In the past," said Van Ameringen, "perfume was only for the wealthy few who had...extra cash. Today, the potential market is enormous."

As for perfume's history, he said it had been in use from early times—probably first as an offering to the gods. The Old Testament is full of references to perfume. The Greeks and Romans refreshed themselves between banquets with water perfumed with flowers. And, said Van Ameringen, it was the Persians who discovered how to extract the

Gem Society Holds Potluck

Seventy members and guests were present, when the Shadow Mountain Gem and Mineral Society of Cathedral City held a potluck dinner at the White Water Fish Hatchery.

Following dinner, Bud Auld presided at the first meeting held by the newly-elected board of directors.

The society will meet again in the fall, when members have returned from their summer vacation trips.

Parties to Fete Former Villager

Many parties are being planned for Mrs. John (Bet) Addington of Honolulu a former resident here, who returns this week for her first visit in three years. She will be the house guest of Mrs. Simon Thompson.

The Sam Bergers have just ended a two-week vacation with family and friends in Chicago. Much time was spent with artist, Nota Koslowsky and his wife who winter here each year at the Berger's Palmer Lodge.

Jack and Colleen Morey had a pleasant two-day break in their daily routine last week when the Joe Morrisons of Ensenada flew in and persuaded the Moreys to accompany them to Las Vegas.

Palm Springs, California

ROSS DRAPER, 83-year-old editor and publisher of the "Voice of the Delta," at Bethel Island, has reason to look pleased with himself as he puffs cigar and reads graduation diploma he received from high school in nearby Antioch. Until entering night classes last fall, Draper had not attended school since completing the 11th grade at Mt. Airy, Iowa, in 1896. Asked how he was able to make it through, Draper explained that "my spelling has improved a great deal." (UPI Telephoto)

Cooking School to Be Conducted on Tuesday

Another first for this resort desert community will be a Cooking School to be staged Tuesday, June 12 at the Chi Chi Starlite Room starting at 2 p.m. which will be presented by The Desert Sun, The California Electric Power Co. and a group of co-sponsors.

The show, open to everyone, will feature entertainment, demonstrations, free favors and recipe books—plus hundreds of dollars in grocery and small appliances along with a grand prize of a major electric appliance.

Denver High Writers Win Top Awards

NEW YORK (UPI) — For the third consecutive year, high school students in Denver have won top ranking in the nation's largest creative writing competition for teen-agers.

Young authors of Denver captured two first awards, three second awards, three honorable mentions and five commendations in the recent 38th annual Scholastic Writing Awards.

The competition, sponsored nationally by Sheaffer, Pen Co., drew approximately 160,000 entries from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Canada and 15 foreign nations.

Runner-up cities in the contest were Evanston, Ill., Ogden, Utah, and Riverside, Cal., with 10 winners each, Detroit with nine awards and New York City with eight.

The contest is open to students in senior and junior public and parochial high schools in the United States, Canada, and in American schools abroad. Winners are named in six classifications of creative writing, including short story, essay, poetry and dramatic script.

Mother Is Up-to-Date

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A recent visitor at the city zoo gave a startling demonstration on just how modern a modern parent can get.

The woman asked zookeepers to help her find her little boy, who had become lost somewhere between the pachyderm palace and the tiger grotto. When the search party finally located the youngster, the woman whipped a walkie-talkie radio out of her coat, pressed down the button and said: "Daddy, where are you? I found Hector."

She explained to her husband what had happened and then said: "Meet me at Monkey Island. Roger and over." Taking Hector by the hand, she blithely went her way.

Combination free admission and prize drawing tickets for an electric living and foods show are still available for everyone in Palm Springs and surrounding area.

The ticket admits one person to the show and once filled out with the bearer's name and address they're good for drawings to be held during the show.

Co-sponsors of the show where tickets can be obtained are: Henry A. Simarian, Inc., Food Box, in Cathedral City; Palm Springs House of Health; Safeway Stores; Sale's; Mayfair; Market Basket; Alpha Beta; Outpost Markets; Thrifty Drug Stores; Campbell Electric, and in Indio, Speirs' Golden Market.

The tickets are available at no obligation at these stores and the public can enter as many tickets as they want to for the drawings at the show. However, only one ticket is available per customer per visit to the stores. Winners must be present at the show at the time of the drawings.

All the co-sponsors are currently offering special sales on merchandise and foods.

Lineup on Television

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lawbreakers here are making television debuts that can lead to long-term contracts with the Department of Correction.

The time-honored police lineup has gone on television.

New York City police unveiled recently a plan to place suspects before television cameras in the central headquarters lineup room. The lineup is transmitted via ultra high frequency television to sets at police headquarters in each of the city's five boroughs.

Ultimately, plans call for each station house to be equipped with a UHF set to tune in the lineup.

The police lineups are being televised over the city's ultra high frequency station, WUHF, but the 2,000 or so New Yorkers who own UHF sets are, in theory at least, unable to receive the casts.

The transmitters are equipped with specially designed "scramblers" so the picture comes in on a normal set as a reverse negative with a constant vertical roll. The object is to protect the civil rights of suspects in the lineup who are accused but not convicted.

In the first test of the "locked-circuit" lineup, 18 suspects were paraded before the cameras. They were accused of crimes ranging from burglary to murder.

The ceiling, in some places in the Meramec Caverns, Stanton, Mo., is 35 feet high.

CATHEDRAL CITY Lions Club president Delmont Ziegler, left, passes gavel to incoming president Ed Donahue who will head the civic organization during 1962-63. Installation and a recognition dinner party was held at the North Shore Beach Club for the Lions Club officers and the group who chartered a bus for the trip.

Ed Donahue to Head Cathedral City Lions

CATHEDRAL CITY — Members of the Cathedral City Lions Club and their guests chartered a bus to the North Shore Beach Club where they held their annual installation of officers for the coming year.

Ed Donahue, the incoming president was presented the Lions Club gavel by outgoing prexy Delmont Ziegler in ceremonies conducted during the installation and dinner party.

Heads P.D. Optimists

PALM DESERT — Dr. F. X. McDonald took over the helm of the Optimist Club here during the installation of officers at the Normandy House Restaurant in Indio in one of the most colorful ceremonies in the 14th district. Past Governor Barney Koster, present Governor Monroe Marlowe, and Lieutenant Governor Robert Saucke officiated the festivities installing the officers for the new year and several new members were also inducted at that time.

Spanish War Vet Dies From Bicycle Fall

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—An 82-year-old veteran of the Spanish American War, denied a driving license because of his age, died Monday of head injuries suffered when he fell off his bicycle. Charles A. Groover, Jacumba, Calif., died in San Diego Naval Hospital where he had been hospitalized since May 26. He told officials he hadn't had an accident in 57 years and did not care if he drove a car anymore.

Officers of P.S. Optimists To Be Installed Tonight

Installation of officers of the Palm Springs Optimist Club will be held tonight in the private dining room of the PS Lanes with the cocktail hour starting at 6:30 followed by the dinner at 7:30 o'clock. The president elect is Rick Costi and the outgoing prexy is Jack Baron. Many guests will be from out of town such as Governor Monroe Marlowe and his wife, and Lt. Governor-elect M. Riches. Also a large contingent of Optimists and their wives were expected from the Palm Desert Optimist Club who only last week held their officers installation dinner.

Police in San Carlos Becoming 'Sharp-Eyed'

SAN CARLOS, (UPI) — The popular "Cops and Robbers" stories of a few years back often described their heroes as "sharp-eyed" policemen or "keen-eyed" detectives. Today, this community on the San Francisco peninsula is making that legendary description a fact.

The San Carlos Police Department is training its officers to become as sharp-eyed as possible. And the department thinks it has found a way to do the job.

The project centers around a machine called a tachistoscope. The device resembles a slide projector that can expose pictures on screen in rapid-fire time.

The idea is to flash a picture quickly and then ask the viewer what he saw. Lt. Robert Parese, the department training officer, began using the machine recently. He asked 18 officers to attend two-hour classes five days a week.

Parese started by flashing numbers on the screen. Then he increased the speed of exposure.

During the first few days, one officer correctly identified three of five number series at one-tenth of a second. But at faster speeds he was unable to recall any of the numbers.

However, by the end of the week, the same officer was able to recall almost all of the numbers at a speed of one one-hundredth of a second. In other words, his eye speed increased by 287 per cent.

PEANUTS
YOU KNOW WHAT SHAKES ME UP?
HEARING PARENTS SAY THEY NEED A VACATION TO GET AWAY FROM THEIR KIDS
I KNOW WHAT YOU MEAN...
THAT'S THE SORT OF THING THAT GIVES SOBER MEN PAUSE...

GORDO
NOW LEAVE US!
QUETZALCOATL WILL VISIT WITH GOD-BROTHERS IN PRIVATE!
DID YOU HEAR MAGIC WORDS QUETZALCOATL USED TO RESTORE SERVICE IN GOD OF LIGHT?
YES! STRANGE SOUNDS!
'CUPCAKE! BUTTERBALL! DOVEY!'
AND 'PNEUCIOUS LAMB!'

ARCHIE
ARCHIE, THE SPARE BED IS STRIPPED! HE'LL HAVE TO SLEEP WITH YOU!
OH, NO! HE KICKS AND TALKS IN HIS SLEEP!
I'LL HAVE TO THINK OF SOMETHING TO DISCOURAGE HIM! I CAN'T SLEEP WITH THAT NUT!
SURE, YOU CAN TAKE YOUR TEDDY BEAR TO BED IF YOU WANT TO! I DON'T CARE!
AW, ARCH!

FICCO
LOOK, I HAVE BIG FAVOR FOR YOU... YOU BUY GOODS FROM US... WE GIVE YOU BEAUTIFUL TRADING STAMPS... GET WONDERFUL GIFTS!
WHAT'S THE CATCH?
IS TRUE THAT I AM LOVE FELLOW MEN... WANT ONLY TO DO YOU BIG FAT FAVOR!
LAST TIME YOU DID US A FAVOR MOST OF US WAS OUT OF THE HOSPITAL IN ONLY A COUPLE DAYS.

MARK TRAIL
LOOKIT THOSE BEE HIVES, GUL, THEY'RE RUINED... RUINED!
IT'S THAT CURSED BEAR AGAIN!
I'M GOING TO TOWN RIGHT NOW AND SEE THAT CRAZY GAME WARDEN. HE'S TRAPPED THAT BEAR TWICE AND MOVED HIM TO HIGH COUNTRY, BUT HE ALWAYS COMES BACK!
I'M GOING TO GET A PERMIT TO RUN HIM DOWN AND KILL HIM... EVEN IF IT'S IN LOST FOREST!

SECRET AGENT X9
HERE HE IS, MR. CORRIAN! I'M SURE OFF! THIS IS VICTORY CABAL!
THAT'S A NEW ALIAS, DERRA—AND HE'S GOT A LIST OF THEM A YARD LONG!—BUT WHAT'S IN A NAME?—IT'S THE MAN WE WANT! I'LL SEE WHAT WE'VE GOT ON HIM!
THIS IS HIS LAST KNOWN ADDRESS, CORRIAN!
ASSIGN A SQUAD TO ME! I'M GOING UP THERE!
HE'S NOT COMING OUT FOR THE BELL, PHIL!
OKAY, MR. 'TORY CABAL!... WE'LL LET OURSELVES IN!

FLINTSTONES
YOU'RE RIGHT THIS MILK IS SOUR!
NOW YOU SEE WHY I INSISTED YOU FASTEN YOUR SEAT BELT!!
ACTS UP LIKE THIS EVERY ONCE IN A WHILE...

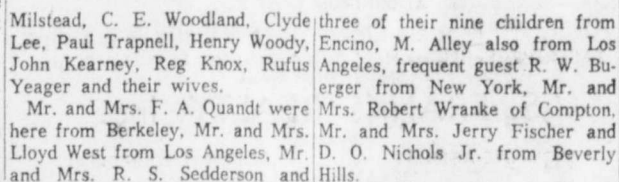

Etta Kett
WHO DO YOU LOVE? THE VERY MOST, I MEAN!
YOU, SUGAR-LUMP! YOU'VE GOT ME SWINGIN' ON A STAR!

Muggs & Skeeter
OH, WINGEY! REALLY—?
NO KIDDING! YOU DON'T THINK I GO AROUND EATING LIKE THIS—AT ALL THE OTHER GIRLS' HOUSES, DO YOU?

Muggs & Skeeter
WOW! THIS IS SMOOTH!
GLAD YOU LIKE IT, SKEETER...
OOPS! WHAT HAPPENED?
THROTTLE GOT STUCK...

Muggs & Skeeter
NOW YOU SEE WHY I INSISTED YOU FASTEN YOUR SEAT BELT!!
ACTS UP LIKE THIS EVERY ONCE IN A WHILE...

CHICAGO (UPI)—Defensive halfbacks Pete Manning and Don Mullins have signed with the Chicago Bears for 1962, owner coach George Halas said today. Manning signed as a free agent last year. Mullins signed as a free agent last year.

CHARLEY METRO, 44, a veteran minor league manager, will pilot the Chicago Cubs in their series against the league leading S. F. Giants at Wrigley Field. Metro succeeds Lou Klein as head coach and becomes the third club field boss this season.

CURFEW STOPS TILT

Dodgers Win First, 3-2; Hold 7-3 Lead in 2nd

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers resume action tonight against the Pittsburgh Pirates holding a 7-3 lead after eight innings of play before they meet for the regularly scheduled game. The Dodgers won the opener Tuesday night, 3-2, then led the Pirates in the nightcap which was called after eight innings because of the 12:50 a.m. curfew rule.

In tonight's regular contest, Joe Moeller 3-4 of Los Angeles will face Pittsburgh's Alvin McBean 5-2.

The Dodgers collected 14 hits in the nightcap and converted Pittsburgh errors to their advantage. Starter Don Drysdale, in making his bid for his ninth victory this season, was helped by Junior Gilliam, who collected four hits, and Maury Wills, who added three more, to chase Pirate starter Bob Friend in the seventh inning.

Willie Davis drove in a pair of runs on a homer and a double in the opener of the two-night doubleheader to help the Dodgers win, 3-2, in a game which was delayed one hour and 24 minutes because of rain.

PROMOTES TOURNEY

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—The Greater Trenton Junior Chamber of Commerce said Tuesday a four-team Christmas basketball tournament involving Rider College, St. Francis (Pa.), Iona and the University of Massachusetts will be held at the Rider College Alumni Gym Dec. 27-28.

Hurlers Walk 10 Chisox

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Manager Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels today was ready to start a movement to abolish the walk in baseball after 10 bases on balls Tuesday night gave the Chicago White Sox a 9-5 victory over his club.

The Angels collected all the extra base hits in the game but half the men Rigney's pitchers put on base with walks came home to score.

In an effort to get a little more control pitching, Rigney named Ken McBride, 4-3, to start tonight in the second game with the White Sox. For Chicago, Ray Herbert, 4-2, is scheduled to make his first appearance of the year against the Angels.

Charlie Smith, known to Los Angeles fans from his days as a rookie third baseman with the Dodgers, wielded the big stick for the White Sox. His three singles drove in four runs, the margin of victory for Chicago.

Veteran second baseman Nellie Fox was not far behind, sending home three runs on a pair of singles.

The Smith Mystery "I don't know why, but that Charlie Smith seems to hit his best against us," Rigney said, recalling that Smith now has driven in eight of 15 runs to his credit against the Angels.

But the Los Angeles manager was more concerned about the wildness of his pitchers. Starter Bo Belinsky in less than three full innings walked five men. Reliever Dean Chance walked a pair and Ryne Duran gave free passes to three men.

"I got to get more distance out of our pitchers," Rigney continued. "I intend to use Don Lee, who just came to us from Minnesota, on Friday. Maybe he can give our starters a lift."

Wagner Hits 14th Biggest of the extra-base hits for the Angels was Leon Wagner's leadoff homer in the sixth inning, his 14th of the season to tie Detroit's Norm Cash for second in four batters. The Angels scored three runs in that inning to take a brief 5-3 lead.

But the White Sox came back in the top of the seventh to score a pair with Charlie Smith driving in both runs with his second of three singles.

Ryne Duran, the third of four Los Angeles pitchers, was charged with the loss, his fifth defeat against two wins while Don Zanni who took over for Chicago starter Joe Horlen got credit for the win. Zanni gave up only one hit in 3 2-3 innings he worked.

In addition to Wagner's homer, Albie Pearson tripled and catcher Bob Rodgers doubled but both of these extra base blows, like Wagner's homer, was good for only a single run.

Chuck's Win Tilt, 10-8

Chuck's Welding, the defending champions of the city softball league, began the regular season last night with a 10-8 victory over the California Water and Telephone Co. at the Polo Grounds.

In a game that managed to stay close all the way through, Chuck's used two pitchers, Wendell Hines, and John Lagter, with the latter picking up the victory. Row was the loser for the linemen.

Chuck's Welding plays again against Massey Sand and Gravel.

Players Vote For All Stars

NEW YORK (UPI)—The ball players go to the "polls" on June 22 when they will vote for the men who will play in this year's two All-Star games.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick has announced the balloting will be conducted from June 22 to June 28, with the players themselves selecting the starting lineups, excluding the pitchers, for the American and National league teams.

The first All-Star Game of the season will be held at Washington's new District of Columbia Stadium July 10, and the second at Wrigley Field in Chicago July 30.

This marks the fourth consecutive season that the starting teams will be chosen by the players instead of the fans. No player can vote for himself or for any of his teammates.

Pitchers will be selected by the two managers, Freddie Hutchinson of the National League and Ralph Houk of the American, who also will choose the remainder of their squads after the starting teams are picked by the players.

Attendance Up in NL

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Attendance in the expanded National League is up 41 per cent this year, with the new Houston and New York franchises accounting for 74.5 per cent of the increase.

Official figures released by NL President Warren Giles' office Tuesday showed that 3,491,545 fans paid their way into NL games through Sunday, June 3. The total is an increase of 1,017,095 over the same period in 1961.

Houston has drawn 406,516 fans on 25 dates (a 16,261 average) and New York has drawn 351,928 on 20 dates (a 17,596 average) to account for all but 258,651 of the gain.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, playing their first season in the new deluxe Dodger stadium, have drawn 800,542 on 25 dates for a stunning average of 32,022 per date. The San Francisco Giants are second with 527,421.

Sultans Defeat Massey, 8-1

In a doubleheader staged at the Polo Grounds, The Coachella Valley Sultans defeated the Massey Sand and Rock, 8-1, behind the two hit pitching of Jim Sharp and Art Estel in the first game of the evening to open the season for the city league.

The Sultans iced the contest with a three hit attack, plus the aid of three walks in the third inning. In the fourth, the Sultans put together four straight hits and with the assist of a miscue were able to push three more runs across the plate.

The Mexican Colony ball club held the Cal. Tel. and Water Co. team scoreless for six innings and finally yielding a run to score a 4 to 1 victory over the water Co. Stickmen in the final contest of the Twin bill of the evening.

UCLA Tennis Captain Gets MVP Award

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Larry Nagler, UCLA tennis captain and Big Five singles champion for the past three years, was awarded the Orville Schultz Memorial Trophy Tuesday night as the Bruins' Most Valuable Player for 1962.

Nagler, a senior from North Hollywood, won the NCAA crown in 1960 as a sophomore and led UCLA to the team title in 1960 and 1961. He will close out his collegiate career in the NCAA tourney later this month at Stanford.

Bob Palmer, a junior from Phoenix, was named captain of the 1963 squad, and Dave Reed of Glendale, was honored as honorary frosh captain for the past season.

Wets Win Out For Milwaukee Baseball Fans

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Milwaukee Braves fans probably will be shouting louder for the home team now that they don't have to worry about dry throats. Baseball fans Tuesday won a year-long battle with the county board of supervisors over the right to carry canned and bottled beer into County Stadium.

Golfing with ALEX MORRISON

Teacher of Champions

In putting Tony Lema concentrates on holding hands ahead of clubhead and keeping heel of clubface at the ball.

TONY LEMA is a very likeable fellow and most capable golfer when not roaming off in dreamland.

Following a recent session on his putting he said:

"Now you've given me something I can really work on." This crack made me swallow an extra patience pill. The very same suggestions about his putting had been given to him before on several occasions.

Repetition is painful to editors, readers, pupils and teachers. The main cause for it, in most cases, is the pupil. Having to repeat extremely simple instructions more than a reasonable number of times is downright depressing to a capable instructor.

These particular Putting Tips are basic and should not be overlooked by any golfer at any time. A—Hands always somewhat ahead of the clubhead. B—The heel of the clubface opposite the center of the ball.

These two points consistently afford better direction and distance.

IN U.S. OPEN

Charlie Sifford Fires Low Qualifying Round

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cigar-smoking Charlie Sifford, five-time national Negro champion, wound up as the best shooter among the nation's 131 qualifiers for the U.S. Open golf championship with a 66-70-136.

The 39-year-old native of Charlotte, N.C., now laying out of Los Angeles, put together his four-under-par 36-hole total at the Ravislo Country Club to lead nine players at Chicago who qualified for the tourney proper, which gets under way at Oakmont, Pa., next Thursday.

Sifford's 136 was a stroke better than four others among 497 competitors in the final qualifying rounds at 13 sites on Monday and Tuesday, which whittled an original entry field of 2,502 to 131 plus 19 exempt players for the Open.

Include Former Winners

The 19 who were exempt from all qualifying included the last five to win the Open, headed by defending champion Gene Littler, Masters champion Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper Jr., Tommy Bolt and Dick Mayer.

Former United States and British amateur champion Deane Beaman of Silver Springs, Md., shot a 69-68-137 at the Manor Country Club in Washington, D.C., the same site where Dick Wietzle of Pikesville, Md., carded a 72-65-137, while veteran pro Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N.Y., paced a tough field qualifying at the Montclair Country Club in Montclair, N.J., with a 70-67-137. On Monday, little Fred (Butch) Baird of Galveston, Tex., playing only his third year on the pro circuit, fired a 68-69-137 to pace shooters from six sites.

Snead Qualifies

A total of 50 players qualified through the second round on Monday and 81 made the grade at seven sites Tuesday. Included in the field of name players who passed the test Tuesday was perennial Sam Snead, four-time runner-up in the Open back for still another crack at his first title. Slammin' Sam shot a 71-70-141 at Montclair, where 32 players in all earned starting berths.

Missing out were former Open champions Lew Worsham (1947), Sam Parks Jr. (1955) and Jack Fleck (1955); former PGA champions Jim Turnesa and Jim Ferrier; Bob Toski, Chick Harbert, Dick Stranahan, Dutch Harrison, Don Fairfield, Mike Fetchick, Al Bessink, veteran Ryder Cupper Ted Kroll and famed amateur Harvie Ward.

S.F. Giants Blast Cubs, 11-4

Pull Two Games Ahead of L.A. In NL Derby

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Rampant San Francisco Giants go after their 13th victory in 14 contests today when they start Mike McCormick 2-2 against Chicago's Dick Ellsworth 3-7 in a battle of left-handers.

Leading the National League by two games, the Giants made it five straight Tuesday by blasting the Cubs, 11-4, with the aid of 13 hits and five unearned tallies. The romp also gave Manager Alvin Dark's crushers a record of seven triumphs out of eight games since they went on the road.

Lefty Billy O'Dell struck out 10 and limited the Cubs to five hits while besting the Bruins for the sixth consecutive time.

The Giants climbed aboard loser Bob Buhl (3-4) with a four-run attack in the third inning, two of them scoring on a bases loaded single by Orlando Cepeda.

Then came a five run blast in the eighth inning which Felipe Alou triggered with a home run. Buhl was taken out after he walked Jim Davenport and replaced by Bob Anderson. Shortstop Andre Rodgers next committed an error that opened the gate for four unearned tallies. O'Dell now has a 7-3 record.
